Cervical Cancer Screening & HPV Awareness

- Cervical cancer is one of the most preventable types of cancer, yet many women are not up to date with screening.
- Screening can detect early cell changes before they become cancerous. That makes preventive care especially important. Here are a few things to keep in mind:
    - Stay up to date with cervical screening
    - Know your personal screening schedule
    - Do not delay appointments, even if you feel healthy
    - Speak with your provider if you have questions

  Preventive care is one of the most powerful tools for protecting your health.
